

Scenario

Amy	36 years	mother
Kev	34 years	father
Billy	4 years	subject
Katrina	13 years	sister

Background

Billy started at the school a term ago. He has been dropped off every day by Amy and Katrina and has not had a problem with her leaving. He seems to be a quiet, observant child. There have been no significant concerns.

Incident

This morning Billy shared in circle time that he had hid in his room at the weekend because Daddy was shouting and throwing things and Mummy was crying.

Since the weekend Kev has been dropping Billy off at school.

How should the school handle this concern?
